

What began over 30 years ago as a vision has today developed into a full-blown national celebration. Indeed, like the sports it represents, National Hunting & Fish Day has become a deep-rooted tradition that annually serves to introduce millions of Americans to the outdoor sports.

At thousands of NHF Day events held across the nation each year, the focus is not just on insuring a bright future for the outdoor sports, but also on recognizing the past conservation efforts and achievements of American sports men and women.

The following local organizations will be selling food and beverages at this year's event.

- Alton VFW Post 1308
Fish Fry
- Brighton Fire Department
Bar-b-que
- Pioneer
Carmel Corn & Porkskins
