ALTON – State Rep. Dan Beiser, D-Alton, recently hosted a supplies and toy drive to benefit the Alton Salvation Army. Beiser called on residents of the Metro-East to donate to families in need during the winter months.

“Seeing the generosity of folks from the surrounding communities is very heartwarming,” said Beiser. “Helping those in need is what the holiday season is all about, and I am happy to see that folks from the area stepped up to help those families in need in our area. All of the donations will be put to good use.”

“I want to thank Representative Beiser again for opening up his office to serve as a donation spot for the Salvation Army,” said Holly Allen, a caseworker at the Alton Salvation Army. “It can be hard to keep our food pantry stocked during this time of year, so all of the donations are truly appreciated.”
