

Lewis and Clark Holding Collegiate Level Volleyball Open Tryouts

June 13 2012 9:42 AM

GODFREY – Interested in playing collegiate-level volleyball? Lewis and Clark Community College is holding open tryouts through July 17 every Tuesday evening from 7-9 p.m. in River Bend Arena.

“The open gym nights are designed primarily for collegiate-level volleyball players, but are open to anyone who wants to play,” said Jim Hunstein, Lewis and Clark’s Head Volleyball coach.

“We have had a good turnout of athletes so far, including our returning and incoming Trailblazers as well as 2013 recruits.”
