GODFREY – Lewis and Clark Community College will host its annual Job Fair this spring, hoping to match students and community residents with employers from throughout the metro area.

The fair is free to employers and job seekers and typically draws more than 300 attendees each year. The public is welcome from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday, April 5, in The Commons. The Commons is located inside the McPike Math and Science Complex on the west side of the Godfrey campus.

“A wide variety of area employers take part which means lots of different opportunities for job seekers,” said Terry Lane, director of L&C’s Career and Veteran Services. “Wireless access and computers will be provided so job seekers can visit employer websites or complete applications online. Technical assistance will also be available.”

Job seekers are encouraged to dress to impress and bring copies of their resumes.

Participating employers will be added as they are confirmed to the public Facebook event at <http://bit.ly/LCJobFair17>. Job seekers do not need a Facebook account to view the event, but if they have one, they can follow the event for update notifications.
