ALTON - Marquette Catholic's baseball team has followed the success of the basketball team into the season so far under head coach Tim Fahrnestock.

The Explorers beat Calhoun twice on Saturday 5-1 and 10-1 at Hardin to improve to 4-1 on the season.

Calhoun fell to 4-2 after being swept.

Fahrnestock singled out Maag and Weinman for some key hitting in both games.

"Jason Maag had a heck of a day on Saturday and Zach tore it up at the plate," Fahrnestock said.

The Explorers have an array of pitchers, so they are adapting to the new IHSA-pitch count rule likely better than most teams.

"We are fortunate to have a pretty deep pitching staff," Fahrnestock said. "We have some good pitchers with experience and some excellent younger pitchers."

The Explorers' Nick Hemann is one for one at the plate for a .1000 average so far; Maag is batting .421 after five games and has five RBI and a home run. Jake Reiter is hitting .500, while Garrett Weiner is hitting .444 and Liam Maher's average stands at .357. Messinger has a .333 batting average, and Weinman is hitting .278, but has three RBI and a pair of doubles and has been solid in the first five games for the Explorers. Marquette's Sam Stemm has a .500 average with one hit in two at-bats.

Hurler Brady McAfee has a 1-0 mark and 10 strikeouts, Luke Simmons is 1-0 on the mound, while Mike Neel and Liam Maher have also picked up a win. Messinger, Hemann, Kyle Begnel and Adam Harrison have also had solid outings on the mound for the Explorers.
