

More than 100 students earn GED diplomas through LCCC Adult Education program

June 11 2017 11:48 AM

GODFREY – More than 100 students earned their General Equivalency Diploma (GED[®]) through Lewis and Clark Community College's Adult Education department and the Regional Office of Education No. 40 Adult Learning Center in 2017.

Of those, approximately 50 students walked across the stage of the Ann Whitney Olin Theatre inside the Hatheway Cultural Center during the 41st annual GED Graduation held June 8.

To view or download more photos from the event on Flickr, visit <http://bit.ly/GEDgrad2017>.

