In a separate statement, The Glen Carbon Police Department also said it was aware of the rumors circulating on social media. This is what they had to say about the rumors:

"We conducted an investigation into intimidation directed toward the staff of the Glen Carbon Walmart. This investigation resulted in criminal charges and an arrest, but at no time did the suspect or anyone else make specific and credible threats of violence toward Walmart personnel or to the patrons of Walmart. Residents should feel no cause for alarm in patronizing any Glen Carbon business, including Walmart."
