WELCOME TO BETHALTO

Perched upon the edge of the rolling Illinois prairie is the Village of Bethalto. Low green hills and picturesque farms frame this attractive community of nearly 10,000 residents, one of the three fastest-growing communities in Madison County. The peaceful setting and relaxed lifestyle make Bethalto an ideal place to raise a family. Yet, its close proximity to the rest of the St. Louis metropolitan area means that your family will never exhaust the tremendous variety of cultural opportunities and entertainment nearby.

"The old site was kind of dated," Mayor Winslow said. "It was great when it was first constructed but over the years, as things progress, we felt it was not as complete as it could have been. This new site just has so much more information, to me, it's really amazing how much more we've been able to get on there."

Some information and features remain similar to the previous site, however, Mayor Winslow highlighted the addition multiple videos and photos allowing visitors of the site to get a nice glimpse of the village.

"There's also a new scrolling banner at the top of the page, so if we have any emergency alerts or big news that we need to get out," Winslow said. "We also have more news links for different events going on in town. With just a single click people are able to get to information for everything going on in the village."

Mayor Winslow commended Riverbender.com for "great work" on the new Bethalto website.

"The staff at Riverbender.com were great to work with, especially Pat Schwarte who spent a lot of hours working with us to get the site built just the way we wanted it," Winslow said. "We couldn't be more pleased with the end result."

The new website isn't the only thing changing in Bethalto, Mayor Winslow said the community will be celebrating the grand opening of the new splash pad in the coming months.

"The splash pad is just about finished, it will be open for Memorial Day weekend," Mayor Winslow said. "We're getting pretty close to finishing the ball fields off of Stadium Drive, those will be ready for play this year. There's a lot of things starting to come together all at once."
