

African-American Artists Sought for Art Gallery.

August 5 2013 8:52 AM

DDR Event Services Perimeter & Crowd Control is supporting Alton's newest art gallery and Alton's artistic community by creating and promoting entrepreneur opportunities for African-American artists. DDR ES will lease a spot at the JMC Design Gallery Co-Op for 6 months giving 6 different African-American artists one month each to explore the opportunity for free.

This spot is available for a one-time use for first time users only. Artists must adhere to JMC Design Gallery Co-Op guidelines. DDR ES continues to help African-Americans in this community with different opportunities. DDR ES is owned by Derrick and Kathleen Richardson.
