EDWARDSVILLE – The readers of Dairy Foods Magazine have selected Prairie Farms Cottage Cheese Cups to the Top 10 Readers' Choice list of best dairy products from 2019. The editors of Dairy Foods Magazine reviewed all new dairy products published in their magazine and on DairyFoods.com during 2019.

From the hundreds of products covered, they selected 31 dairy foods and beverages for nomination as “Best New Dairy Products of 2019.” Visitors to DairyFoods.com were then asked to vote for their favorites resulting in a top 10 finish for Small Batch Cottage Cheese!

“It’s a great honor to see our cottage cheese cups chosen for a Top 10 list that’s stacked with competition,” said Andrew Kuehnert, a Prairie Farms dairy farmer from Fort Wayne, Indiana where milk for the cottage cheese is sourced. “Our family works very hard to provide the freshest milk which is then combined with top ingredients at the Fort Wayne plant to make this outstanding product.”

Prairie Farms Dairy took its eight decades of experience making award-winning cottage cheese to a new level last fall with the introduction of Small Batch Cups. The expansion brought America’s only Zesty Fiesta flavored cottage cheese to market in a snacking category that continues to grow.
