TreeHouse is a non-profit organization, established in 1979, dedicated to the rescue, rehabilitation and release of wildlife, while promoting environmental awareness through education. Located near Alton, Illinois, TreeHouse provides a community service to people in southwestern Illinois who encounter injured or orphaned wildlife by providing a legal and professional means of assisting them and the wildlife involved.

TreeHouse does not receive government funding of any kind and operates with donations from the public, memberships, fundraisers, grants, and fees from outreach programs to keep TreeHouse in operation. We operate under permits from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Illinois Department of Natural Resources, and the Illinois Endangered Species Board.
