The Alton Police encourage anyone with information about a crime to report the information as quickly as possible.

Alton Police Department Chief of Detectives, Lieutenant Scott Golike praised the citizen that came forward by saying, “These kinds of tips often have good results, but this one was particularly productive. This citizen, by taking a couple minutes out of his or her day, gave us information that was instrumental in clearing a large number of car burglaries, thefts and other related cases. The lead provided caused a single burglary investigation to snowball into numerous cases cleared, evidence recovered and multiple suspects arrested. The information the citizen provided was relatively small but the impact, felt throughout several Alton neighborhoods, was big. The APD is always appreciative when citizens get involved.
