

SIUE School of Business Online MBA Among Nation's Top 50

by Doug McIlhaga

December 9 2020 10:05 AM

EDWARDSVILLE – Princeton Review has ranked the Southern Illinois University Edwardsville School of Business Online Master’s of Business Administration (MBA) program among the top 50 nationally. See the complete list at princetonreview.com/business-school-rankings.

The Top 50 Online MBA Program ranking is based on a combination of institutional and student survey data, including career outcomes, technological infrastructure, academic rigor, cost, and affordability, among others. Princeton Review has rated the School among the best in the country for on-campus MBA for 15 consecutive years.

“We are pleased that Princeton Review has recognized the quality of our online MBA program,” said SIUE School of Business Dean Tim Schoenecker, PhD. “The online platform helps our School of Business meet our commitment to deliver quality, affordable business education to working professionals.

“We launched our fully online MBA program two years ago and student interest in the program has exceeded our expectations. Furthermore, the growth in enrollment has enabled us to offer new specializations to meet the needs of our students and their employers.”

Princeton Review is a leading tutoring, test prep and college admission services company. Every year, it helps millions of college and graduate school-bound students achieve their education and career goals through online and in-person courses delivered by a network of more than 4,000 teachers and tutors, online resources, and its more than 150 print and digital books published by Penguin Random House. Princeton Review is headquartered in New York, N.Y. The company is not affiliated with Princeton University.

SIUE’s School of Business and the accountancy programs are accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International, representing the highest standard of achievement for business schools worldwide. The Princeton Review lists SIUE as one of the top 252 business schools in the U.S. for the 13th consecutive year. Undergraduate degrees are offered in accountancy and business administration, with specializations in computer management and information systems (CMIS), economics, entrepreneurship, finance, human resources, international business, management and marketing. Graduate degrees include accountancy, business administration, CMIS and marketing research, with specializations in tax, project management and business analytics. More than 26,000 alumni have earned degrees from the SIUE School of Business. For more information about the School of Business, visit siue.edu/business.

Photo: SIUE School of Business Dean Tim Schoenecker.