Macie's head girls basketball coach is Brian Diskin. She has played basketball from her sixth-grade to freshman year, then took a break and returned her senior year.

"Being involved in all the sports has helped me gain friendships and understand teamwork and how to be supportive," she said.

Macie plans to attend Columbia College in Columbia, Mo., next year. She will play soccer in college and major in accounting.

Macie is a setter/hitter in volleyball, a mid-fielder/forward in soccer and was a long-distance cross country runner this past fall.
