Final-Summer-Splash!

Welcome Awesome Autumn!

Autumn marks the transition, from Summer to Winter, on September `21!

"Autumn is one of the temperate Seasons."

Plus! What's the Autumn Equinox?

This year, according to the official calendar, the Autumn Equinox is on September 22!

"Equinox represents equal daylight & void of sunlight."

Autumn VS Fall:

The Season known as Autumn, Autumn is interchangeably, with the Season known as Fall, only in the Northern Hemisphere."

Notably, only in the Northern hemisphere, officially, celebrates the Season of Fall."

The rest of the world celebrates "Autumn!" Huh!

How long is Autumn or our Fall, anyway?

"The Autumnal equinox to the winter solstice, is from September `21 to December `22, which happens to be the shortest day of the year."

Let's all enjoy our Awesome Autumn!

So, long Summer, Welcome awesome Autumn!

Seize the Day!
