

Celebrate Independence Day at the Riverboats at the Gateway Arch's Red, White & Brews: A Fourth of July River Bash

June 18 2021 11:30 AM

ST. LOUIS —The party's on for the Fourth of July! Enjoy live music, a New-Orleans-style crawfish boil, drink specials, and riverboat cruises, and watch fireworks sparkle over the Mississippi River at the Riverboats at the Gateway Arch's Red, White & Brews: A Fourth of July River Bash on Sunday, July 4! This celebration will take place on the riverboat dock from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

"This year's Fourth of July fireworks over the Mississippi River will be one of the largest downtown displays ever, and the Riverboats at the Gateway Arch provide the best front-row seats to the show," said Robert Hopkins, director of operations, Riverboats at the Gateway Arch. "Celebrate Independence Day here at the riverboats and join us for a rocking summer soiree with a delicious crawfish boil, live performances from local bands, relaxing river cruises, and of course an exclusive view of the fireworks dazzling over the Mighty Mississippi!”

In addition to indulging in the crawfish boil, guests can order from the Paddlewheel Café, which will feature a limited menu including fresh catfish nuggets, shrimp po’boys and grilled steak salad. Drink specials will be offered throughout the day at the dockside bar.

While the Fireworks Cruise is sold out, tickets are available for the St. Louis Riverfront Cruise, which departs at 10:30 a.m., 12 p.m., 1:30 p.m., 3 p.m., 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m.
