

American Red Cross Joins Partners To Open Resource Center For Those Impacted By Recent Tornadoes

October 29 2021 3:54 PM

ST. LOUIS— American Red Cross is partnering with other local disaster assistance organizations to open a “one-stop shop” for those impacted by the recent tornadoes. The Multi-Agency Resource Center (MARC) will be open at the following locations and dates:

Fredericktown, MO

Monday, November 1, 2021

Calvary Church
1725 East Highway 72
Noon – 8:00 P.M.

Farmington, MO

Tuesday, November 2, 2021
Farmington Community Civic Center
Two Black Knight Drive
11:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m.

Representatives from government, nonprofit, and religiously-affiliated disaster relief organizations may also be on hand at the MARC to assist those impacted.

Individuals and families applying for assistance are reminded to bring identification and verification of address to be eligible for assistance from some agencies. Childcare will be available.

For your safety and the safety of others, face masks will be required at each MARC. Free masks will be available.

Overview of recent Red Cross support to communities:

Disaster Assessment Teams spent the week assessing damage to homes while other teams distributed emergency supplies to St. Mary, Farmington, and Fredericktown, in Missouri and also Chester, Illinois on Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday, teams distributed supplies primarily in Coffman and Perry County. Emergency supplies consist of items such as rakes, gloves, trash bags and other items to help with clean up.

No shelters have been requested by county emergency management.

Individuals needing assistance following the Sunday night tornadoes may call 1-800-Red-Cross or go to redcross.org for more information.
