November 3 2021 11:28 AM

ST. LOUIS – The sixth annual Winterfest in Kiener Plaza, presented by Bank of America and World Wide Technology and produced by Gateway Arch Park Foundation in partnership with the St. Louis Blues, opens Saturday, November 20, 2021, and is bigger, brighter, and better than ever.

This year's Winterfest features all the holiday fun from previous years like ice skating, holiday lights and music, festive beverages, and food, cozy igloos, sweet s'mores, winter markets, visits with popular princesses and superheroes, and a New Year's Eve celebration with a spectacular fireworks show.

In addition, Gateway Arch Park Foundation is excited to announce an Opening Day 5K Run/Walk and 1-mile Kids Fun Run through the Arch grounds to kick off the festivities. The inaugural Winterfest 5K is presented by Caleres in partnership with Big River Running. The corresponding Kids Fun Run is supported by Famous Footwear. Race proceeds benefit Gateway Arch Park Foundation's mission of conservation, preservation, education, and community programs.

“Winterfest is a beloved St. Louis winter tradition for all ages, and we are so excited to return this year in person with expanded programming, featuring six weeks of festive Winterfest fun,” said Ryan McClure, executive director of Gateway Arch Park Foundation. “We invite our neighbors, friends, and out-of-town guests to celebrate the magic of the holiday season with some of the best views of our beautiful city from the heart of Downtown St. Louis.”

We're proud of our partnership with Gateway Arch Park Foundation and appreciate all they do to steward our iconic Arch and grounds and help bring Downtown to life with a variety of events,” said Marilyn Bush, president of Bank of America St. Louis. “We look forward to seeing residents and visitors alike celebrating the holiday season at Winterfest.”

“World Wide Technology is dedicated to making a positive impact in our communities, Winterfest's goal of bringing together St. Louisans, and our employees, of all ages to enjoy the season is one we are proud to support,” said Ann Cuiellette Marr, executive vice president for global human resources at World Wide Technology and president of the World Wide Technology Foundation. “We can't wait to see everyone out on the skating rink and under the fireworks this year!”
