ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

From the mid 1880's to 1951, Lincoln School operated as a school for Black residents of Edwardsville, Illinois; accordingly, all teachers and administrators were Black. In 1951, Edwardsville School District #7 became an integrated system, at which time all teachers were laid off and Lincoln School ceased to exist as the school for blacks. In August of 1986, the first Lincoln School Reunion was held; the committee that planned the event decided to remain active. With the $400.00 remaining from the reunion expenses, a scholarship fund was established at the Bank of Edwardsville – thus, marking the beginning of the Lincoln School Alumni Foundation, (LSAF – A Non-profit Organization).
