Please note, charges are merely an accusation and Defendants are presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty in a court of law.

The probable cause statement for both defendants reads: Victim #1 (Counts 1 and 2), a U.S. Postal Service employee, reported that he was preparing to open a mailbox at the intersection of Sunswept Park Court and Springtime Lane when he was approached by a light-skinned black male displaying a handgun. The man demanded the key Victim #1 uses to open the mailbox and Victim #1 handed it over. The man got into the passenger seat of a black Volkswagen SUV which drove away. Shortly thereafter, another USPS employee, Victim #2 (counts 3 and 4) was approached by a black male matching the same description who emerged from a black Volkswagen SUV while he was delivering mail to an apartment complex in the 600 block of Greenway Manor Drive (a short distance from the previous robbery).

The man displayed a handgun that was tucked in his waistband and demanded the key which Victim #2 had placed in the keyhole of the mailbox. Victim #2 turned over the key and the man got back into the SUV. St. Louis County Police located the suspect vehicle a few miles away and arrested the defendants after they fled from the vehicle on foot. Defendant Boyd (the driver of the vehicle) had a black Glock 9mm pistol in his possession when he was arrested. Two other guns were found inside the vehicle, along with both of the keys that had been stolen from the victims. Both victims were brought to the scene and identified Defendant Jones as the person who had robbed them of their keys. Defendants declined to make any statements following their arrest.

These alleged crimes against federal employees could also subject the defendants to federal prosecution.
