August 1 2022 10:53 AM

BUNKER HILL - The IL Bunker Hill Area Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of newly elected President Lisa Webb, produced a Director's Letter for potential new residents, potential residents, and the surrounding communities to read and understand what living in Bunker Hill and within the ZIP code of 62014 is like.

It reads: "Area community service groups actively donate time and money to many good causes as they deliver Meals on Wheels, provide free assistive devices, beautify the town, provide community activities, provide grants to BHHS graduates, and beautify two parks; one of which sports a large pond and a recent donation of grills.

Thanks to local businesses and volunteers, every year there are giant fireworks displays. If you attend the annual Fall Festival, you will enjoy music, a variety of foods, vendors, activities for the young, a huge car show with a burnout contest, and as a bonus, one of the two fireworks displays. Beginning in 2021, the festival hosted a carnival!

This community is 50 minutes from St. Louis and 60 from Springfield. Bunker Hill is on Highway 159; 15 miles north of Edwardsville. You can't miss it because you'll have to stop at the only 4-way intersection. The American flag proudly waves there. At the next intersection North, the Lincoln statue greets visitors. You'll see some special murals as well.

Bunker Hill boasts hometown shopping, banking, funeral services, plumbing, heating and electrical, health services, food, beauty, newspaper, automotive, farm, and much more.

There is something very special about this town that may harken back to the days of barn raising. Years ago in farming communities, if someone needed a barn, neighbors would show up and help build it while others cooked and served up some great meals. In today's world, Bunker Hill is known for coming together to help others in need with their generous hearts.
