ST. LOUIS – The Point (105.7 FM) Radio announced The Rizzuto Show has dismissed well-known St. Louis personality Tony Patrico.

The announcement was made on a Twitter page for the show, powered by 105.7 The Point.

The Twitter message said: “Tony Patrico is no longer with Hubbard Radio or a member of the Rizzuto Show. The show returns as scheduled tomorrow at 6 a.m.”

Patrico had been the co-host of The Rizzuto Show with Moon Valjean and the late Jeff Burton, who died last year after a battle with prostate cancer.

Patrico was briefly on leave several years ago after surgery for kidney cancer.

The Point and Hubbard Radio did not release any other information at this time about Patrico's situation.
