What makes your relationship special? I mean i don't really know what would make our relationship special to anyone other then us. We are each other homes.

Share a memory you have made together: We like to take my niece on dates and last week we took her to an arcade and she's autistic and she really wanted a bear from this claw machine and she couldn't grasp that we couldn't get it so he sat there trying for about 20 mins and used about $40 just to get this bear for her it made her whole day and mine to see her hood it and laugh and smile and right after that we took her to McDonald's ofc and she was scared to Go up in it alone but she really wanted to Go Down the slide but she was also scared so trent he's a 6'4 man he got up in the play place and he went up the stairs and down the slide with her it was the best thing ever and the pure joy is and was amazing.
