

St. Joseph's Academy And Homeschoolers Earn Top Prizes At L&C's 16th Annual Trebuchet Competition

March 29 2023 9:54 AM

GODFREY – Twelve teams of area high school students came to George C. Terry River Bend Arena on March 24 for Lewis and Clark Community College’s 16th Annual Trebuchet Competition.

This year, first place in the trebuchet went to Angels Raining Down Destruction from St. Joseph’s Academy in St. Louis. Second place went to M<sup>3</sup>, a team comprised of area homeschool students, with third place going to Newton’s Finest, from Father McGivney High School.

First place in the journaling competition went to team M<sup>3</sup>. The Flingers, from Edwardsville High School, came in second, with Newton’s Finest finishing in third place.

The winner of this year’s iPad giveaway was Jakob Stockman from East Alton-Wood River High School.

For more information about the annual trebuchet competition, contact L&C Professor of Mathematics Kevin Bodden at kbodden@lc.edu or visit www.lc.edu/trebuchet.