BELLEVILLE - Edwardsville's boy track and field team is rounding into shape as the season develops and showcased some of its best talents Saturday at the Norm Armstrong Invitational. Civic Memorial also competed with the top-notch athletes at the meet, as did Alton, Triad, Roxana, and Granite City.

Edwardsville head boys track and field coach Chad Lakatos said he saw positives in the meet but also sees a lot of work still left to do for the team as the spring unfolds.

Edwardsville travels to Mascoutah on Friday for a noon Military Classic Meet.

“Some of our biggest positives in the Saturday meet were Clayton Lakatos with P.R. in the 300 hurdles, Iose Epenesa in the shot put and discus, and our pole vaulter Ethan Stukenberg,” he said. “Not to take anything away from these kids but we had some of our long jumpers and triple jumpers out on spring break, but they will be back. I am looking forward to the rest of the season.”

Collinsville's K.J. Thorps-Watt won the high jump and finished fourth in the triple jump, while Edwardsville's Clayton Lakatos was second in the 300-meter hurdles, Stukenberg was second in the pole vault and Epenesa won the discus throw as the main local highlights at the Norm Armstrong Invitational boys track meet, one of the largest in the state, Friday morning and afternoon at Bob Goalby Field on the campus of Belleville West High.

Homewood-Flossmoor won the meet with 84 points, with Minooka second at 57 points, Cahokia was third with 54.5 points, East St. Louis came in fourth with 46 points, in fifth place was Chicago Kenwood with 43 points, Naperville Central came in sixth at 35 points, O'Fallon was seventh with 30.33 points, Edwardsville was eighth with 26 points, St. Louis St. Mary's Catholic was ninth with 24 points and Marion rounded out the top ten with 23 points.

Among other area teams, Collinsville was 12th with 20 points, Triad was 14th with 16.5 points, Civic Memorial tied for 19th with Rockton Hononegah and Plainfield East with 11 points each, Roxana was 30th with four points, Alton came in 32nd with one point and Granite City failed to score.
