

Recycle Your Holiday Lights at Participating Area Businesses

December 6 2010 9:42 AM

Godfrey, Ill. – Don't just throw away old holiday lights – recycle them.

Last year, the Holiday Light Recycling Drive collected more than three tons of holiday lights to recycle, diverting that waste from landfills.

“This year we are hoping to double, even triple that number,” said Marcia Lochmann, director of Sustainability at Lewis and Clark Community College.

People are encouraged to recycle old holiday lights and extension cords by bringing them to Lewis and Clark's Sustainability Center, located inside Haskell Hall on the Godfrey campus, by Dec. 10.

All unworkable holiday lights can also be taken to participating Wal-Mart stores and other locations during store hours through Dec. 12:

- 379 West Pontoon Road, Granite City, IL 62040
- 1040 Collinsville Crossing Blvd., Collinsville, IL 62234
- 1971 Wentzville Parkway, Wentzville, MO 63385
- 1661 Jungerman Road., St. Peters, MO 63304
- 2897 Veteran's Memorial Parkway, St. Charles, MO 63303
