

Center for American Archeology & McCully Heritage Project host the 3rd annual

KAMPSVILLE KNAP-IN

October 12, 2019

McCully Heritage Project
Kampsville, Illinois

Flintknapping demonstrations and tutorials, vendors, atlatl range, artifact id, native plant walks, other demonstrations of primitive skills.

Artifact ID with from 10 am to 2 pm.

Tent camping, fishing, hiking available at the 940 acre McCully Heritage Project. Showerhouse and restroom available on site. The McCully Heritage Project is a private non-profit environmental center located 1 mile south of Kampsville on Crawford Creek Road.

This event is not for buying, selling or trading of relics.
No local chert collections without property owner permission.

For information contact McCully
Heritage Project
(618) 653-4687 or mccullyheritage@ gmail.com

