He was much more than those though, he was kind hearted, spontaneous, generous, adventurous, funny, ambitious, a leader, determined, intelligent and strong. His eyes shined with an unbelievable light. He always spoke the way it was. Justin had an amazing ability to always find a way to make all problems just disappear. He was an amazing builder, a master of all trades, he tried: roofing, carpentry, dry walling, cake building and video games. Justin had an infectious smile that would light up the room when he entered it, and above all else, he was loved very much by many and will be deeply missed by all.
